Erin Quidington

Early years practitioner and BSc Psychology student
Salford, England, United Kingdom

Summary

I am a 21 year old early years practitioner with experience working with children ages 0-5 and 7-11 and a focus on those with SEN. I am so incredibly passionate about working with children and hope to change the way we look at their learning so we can allow them to express themselves and unlock their full potential. I am keen to progress in my career and I am undertaking a bachelor's degree in psychology in hopes of becoming an educational psychologist. I enjoy working with children especially in helping them to learn and be themselves, in order to prepare them for life in an ever changing world.
